U.S. Probation Officer Action:

Ms. Johnson had been attending a weekly group and monthly individual therapy sessions. Based on conversations with Ms. Johnson and her drug therapist, it is believed that increasing her treatment to include a weekly individual session and weekly group sessions will reduce her risk of future Marijuana use. Ms. Johnson will also be encouraged to perform volunteer work as she has indicated that a trigger to her Marijuana use is staying in the house all day while on electronic monitoring. This recommendation is also made based on Ms. Johnson's current age, 64, and the fact that she is responsible for raising 6 grandchildren she has legal custody of.

The U.S. Probation Officer does not believe that incarceration is justified in this case.

Should Your Honor concur with our recommendation, please indicate below.
